

GoPro® Maker Kit

Guide

With its stunning 4K video, one-button simplicity and voice control, the GoPro HERO5 Session may be the ultimate combination of performance and small size. Liquid-smooth image stabilization, waterproof design and go-anywhere durability help capture life as you live it.

Starting Out

You'll want to start by making sure the GoPro HERO 5 Session is charged. Open the side door by moving the latch to open the charging port. Plug one end of the USB cable into a wall charger or computer, and the other end into the charging port of the camera. The display on the camera will show an estimate of the battery's life. At full charge, it should last for a few hours of filming.

While you are charging the GoPro, it would be a good time to install the free GoPro and Quik apps on your mobile device. They are available for download in the App Store & Google Play. Quik Desktop is also available for free download to your Windows or Mac computer from <https://shop.gopro.com/softwareandapp>

Filming

The Hero5 Session's one-button operation means you just press the red button to start filming, then press it again to stop filming. You can also control the Hero5 Session remotely with the included GoPro Smart Remote or the GoPro App. The advantage of using the app is that you can use your phone's screen as the GoPro's monitor and see what you're filming when you are filming it. We've included a number of various accessories you can use to attach the Hero5 Session to your bike, car, skateboard, surfboard, helmet...even your body. Go wild! When you're done filming, use the GoPro and/or Quik apps to edit and combine your videos into your very own action movie.

Troubleshooting

You should be able to find all you need about using the GoPro HERO5 Session in the GoPro app and the included book. However, you can find additional information in the GoPro Support Hub:
