WCPL On the Move!

//COMING TO A COMMUNITY EVENT NEAR YOU, IT'S THE NEW WCPL VAN! We're thrilled to add this new vehicle to the organization, and we'll be driving around town to school visits, speaking engagements, sunshine book deliveries, and much more. Special thanks to the Friends of Washington-Centerville Public Library for a grant to wrap the van – you can see us coming now!

Of course, you can always visit us at Woodbourne or Centerville libraries as well – this Calendar of Events is full of classes and programs to help you learn something new while connecting with others with similar interests. Our staff is here to assist you with book recommendations, research assistance, or help find that maker kit or board game that's right for you.

And don't forget to book an appointment at Creativity Commons, our makerspace at Washington Township RecPlex. The possibilities are endless for innovation here, with everything from 3-D printers to embroidery machines to make your project a reality.

Staying in? WCPL has many online resources as well – get past the paywall of many online newspapers with your library card! Find your way through a virtual escape room or take a course through Job Now or LinkedIn Learning. And you can always place a book on hold in our WCPL app through our new catalog, Vega!

We can't wait to see you this summer – out in the community or at the library! 📖
